

Rivers of Waters

“Rivers of waters run down mine eyes, because they keep not thy law.” (Psalm 119:136 KJV)

You who delight in serving the Lord and doing His will in full. There will be time in your life and service unto God that you will find people whom you are serving, reaching out and discipling, you will find them not responding to what you are teaching them, or you will find them doing in contradiction to the instruction of the Word of God. More grievance than that is when you will find those people are hating you, insulting you and fighting aggressively against you because their evil deed had been exposed when you faced them with their sins.

The above events when you are passing through as you are serving the Lord it might discouraged you and causes you pain and hurt. It might even had directed and had pushed your mind to think with an unhealthy thought. You might be planning to revenge or retaliate and go with plans that are not ordained by God.

Here the Psalmist in Psalm 119, had resolve into an action that are different of what is going on in your heart and mind.

The way he thought about it, why the people are doing wrong things is that they are primarily against God and against His Word. They are against him because he decided to stand with the Lord and serve Him.

He was hurt not because the people hated him and hurt him. He was hurt because they did not obey the Word of God and they did not keep and abide with God's laws and commands.

The Psalmist resolved to pray and to cry to God. It is an over whelming distress, because when people disobey God's Word and commands that means they are lost and have no salvation.

For such a reason he took the matter seriously and started to mourn and cry with tears for God to save them and deliver them.

He might recall all the evil that he received from such people, but he realized that they are lost because they are disobeying God. And at this stage they need prayer that they might be awake, realize their sins, repent and come back to God and to His Church.

At that moment he released forgiveness for all of them, and he come to realize that he truly love them and he still he need to do his part for them and as God directs.

Rivers of waters run down mine eyes: It might be even true and applied to you today, 'Rivers of waters run down your eyes.' There is still the true love of God down in your heart toward those people who hurt you. They kept not the law of God and they are lost. Today realize that those people you still love them and need to pray for them that the Lord through His mighty power reach them and save them and deliver them from all their sins.

My Prayer

Rivers of waters run down mine eyes. O Lord hears my prayers. I cry to you in the name of Jesus for the followings souls

Lord has mercy on them, save them O God and deliver them. Lord I forgive them; I realize now that they are not against me but they are against you and against your will. Do something Lord for them so they will repent and turn back to you and got saved. Lord I commit myself to continue to pray and fast for the lost and the backslidden. Lord continues to remind me of them and to pray for them. This is my prayer in Jesus name, Amen.
