

“When justice is done, it brings joy to the righteous but terror to evildoers.”

(Proverbs 21:15)

Justice in life is the will of God; everyone should take his right and what is due for him and everyone should give what is ordained for him to give and contribute.

When you go to buy something, as you buy you are receiving something but in return you are giving the prize that is due for the things that you bought.

In practicing justice in life and in our relationship with one another, whether in our families, in our job and in serving the Lord, or with the people around us, that will bring the abundance of God’s blessings.

The word of God tells us the following: “By justice a king gives a country stability, but one who is greedy for bribes tears it down.” (Proverbs 29:4) In this way practicing justice will bring more stability and more trust in the environment and the community that practice it. People will be more willing to contribute of their resources to such community because there is assurance and there is a good outcome of that.

God had put rules and statutes that regulate life according to what God want to achieve and happen in life; everyone should do his part and everyone should receive and enjoy what is due for him.

When justice is done, it brings joy to the righteous: Those who love God they will be happy when justice is practiced because they know that more blessings will be pour out more on them and on the rest of the people.

When justice is done, it brings terror to evildoers: Because they are sure that they will be punished for all the wrong doing that they had done, and no more they can do evil against God and against other people.

My Prayer

Father God I come before you in the name of Jesus who died on the cross for my sins to give me eternal life. Lord thank you for your word that brings assurance in my life. Lord please give justice to the oppressed and relief them from their oppressors, and judge all the wicked who do evil. Lord I commit myself to serve you by doing what is just and right, grant me the strength and the patient to do that, this all I ask and pray in Jesus name Amen.

“Follow justice and justice alone, so that you may live and possess the land the LORD your God is giving you.”

(Deuteronomy 16:20)

“Do not deny justice to your poor people in their lawsuits.”

(Exodus 23:6)
