

“A man who loves wisdom brings joy to his father, but a companion of prostitutes squanders his wealth.”

(Proverbs 29:3)

A man who has wisdom is the man who fears the Lord. Such wisdom will bring tremendous blessings upon his life. And that will give him more love toward wisdom that he will work out to have more of it.

Just think about it, how if a man who raise up a son who love wisdom, how much that will cause his father to be happy, glad and proud that he invested on such a son?

In the same way, A man who loves wisdom brings joy to his father; God will be so happy to see such a man who walk according to his ways and do what is just and right.

But a companion of prostitutes squanders his wealth: That reminding us with the prodigal son who left his father’s house after he took all his inheritance and went away and squandered it on wild living. Such a man will neither bring joy to God the father in heaven nor gladness to his parents who cared for him and nurtured him.

If a man does not fear God he will not have wisdom and will ultimately be end up with prostitutes who will take away all his wealth that he received from God and through his family.

The word of God made things very clear to us; wisdom is supreme and will lead us to do the right thing that will please God. And this will impart more of His blessing in our lives. Therefore let us abide with His word, fear Him and do His will and be blessed.
