

“He who listens to a life-giving rebuke will be at home among the wise.”

(Proverbs 15: 31)

Don't be angry with the man that God uses to correct you. But resist the devil that wants to destroy you and submit yourself to God and you will be saved.

Listen to a discipline and be at home among the wise. As you take heed of a discipline and correct yourself, you will receive again God's blessings, and brings you back to the true life that Jesus promised to those who listen to Him and follow His steps.

Tell me who like to listen to a rebuke? It is not surprising that no one would like to listen because a rebuke is something non pleasant and our pride will not make us accept that.

But the word of God it tells us the following: The life-giving rebuke is not meant for insult or to underrate a person. But what it means of a life-giving rebuke is to correct, save from troubles, escape from traps of devil and salvation.

A life-giving rebuke is a blessing when it comes on time. It is a heavenly intervention to save you from fall and spare you pains and sorrows. Please accept it gladly and give thanks to God that He used someone to restrain you and stop you from harming yourself.
