

“Whoever loves money never has money enough; whoever loves wealth is never satisfied with his income. This too is meaningless. As goods increase, so do those who consume them. And what benefit are they to the owner except to feast his eyes on them?”
(Ecclesiastes 5:10-11)

God’s Word teaches us more, and gives more understanding to make our lives easy, effective and more enjoyable.

Whoever loves money never has money enough: If our hearts are full of love toward money, whatever we have still it is not enough and we want and desire to have more of it. Money God give to us to make life easier, but if we love it more than to love to live our lives to God then we will in continuous lust to have more of it. Then money it losses its meaning to us.

Whoever loves wealth is never satisfied with his income: Here we have another example of what we discuss above. Wealth is to make life easier and more enjoyable, but if in our hearts the love for wealth, then no point that we will have satisfaction in whatever income we have. We should live to enjoy whatever wealth God give us, and not to live our lives to collect and gather more.

As goods increase, so do those who consume them: If we desire for more material things then more consumable we will have, more burden and more pressure in life.

And what benefit are they to the owner except to feast his eyes on them: The more we have it will not make us enjoy more but it will add more to our responsibilities to keep that wealth and to preserve it, and finally what we can enjoy of what God give is only looking at it; feasting for the eyes.

My Prayer

Father God I come before you in the name of Jesus who died on the cross for my sins to give me eternal life. Thank you for Your Word that gives me more understanding about how to live my life and to enjoy the little thing that you give to me. Help me Lord to make my life of better quality. This all I ask and pray in Jesus name Amen.
