

God's Calling Requirements

Part 43

Living Word for God's Church

"1 Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. 2 Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. 3 For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. 4 But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. 5 For every man shall bear his own burden. 6 Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. 7 Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. 8 For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. 9 And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. 10 As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith." (Galatians 6:1-10 KJV)

"1 Brothers, if someone is caught in a sin, you who live by the Spirit should restore that person gently. But watch yourselves, or you also may be tempted. 2 Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ. 3 If anyone thinks they are something when they are not, they deceive themselves. 4 Each one should test their own actions. Then they can take pride in themselves alone, without comparing themselves to someone else, 5 for each one should carry their own load. 6 Nevertheless, the one who receives instruction in the word should share all good things with their instructor. 7 Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows. 8 Whoever sows to please their flesh, from the flesh will reap destruction; whoever sows to please the Spirit, from the Spirit will reap eternal life. 9 Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up. 10 Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all people, especially to those who belong to the family of believers." (Galatians 6:1-10 NIV)

In this chosen part of Paul's letter to the Galatians church he outlined to us the dangers and pitfalls that may cause us to fall in troubles. He spoke about sins that cause us trouble. He spoke of how to be helped by the body of Christ and to be restored. Paul also spoke in this passage about the way we can be blessed and the way we can be a blessing to others inside the church and ultimately to those outside the church.

1 Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Faults are mistakes that done without awareness: if a man be overtaken in a fault, and he is not aware of what he did, then being part of the body of Christ, he should be surrounded by those who are spiritual and who are more experienced in life and with the Lord and His Word. Faults if not corrected and rectified will be turned into sins and with bad effects. The church once come to know about such things needs to move to rectified things. The spiritual members of the body of Christ should take their part. That is why the importance of reporting such things to the leadership of the church so they will take their part in the process of correction. The spiritual members of the body of Christ should take their part to gently explain to the person who sin or did mistake the bad effects of such faults and sins in order for them to repent and ultimately to be restored.

The church, including the leaders, the workers and the members should work together and everyone has a responsibility to help those who fall in sin and to do the needful with them. Gentleness and meekness should be exercised by all in dealing with faults and sins. Patience and perseverance needed for the church to continue to explain and expound the bad effects of sins and the way to repent and to come out from them. Those who fall into faults or sins, they need to show meekness and allow the church to guide them till they are free from such sins and faults with their bad effects. They need to submit to the Word of God that the church is teaching from God's Word in the bible so that their repentance will be true and their lives will be transformed. Pride, arrogance and resistance to correction will not help those who sinned or committed faults. If they will do that they will neither be blessed nor possible for them to be restored.

But watch yourselves, or you also may be tempted, considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Watchfulness is needed from each and every one of us so that we will not be tempted. Everyone of the church needs to watch himself first, then he need to watch others. The true love of God is to love others and help them to be restored from their troubles and to love ourselves being watchful to avoid falling in the trap of the evil one.

2 Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ. 5 For every man shall bear his own burden. 2 Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ. 5 for each one should carry their own load. Every member of the body of Christ had his own load or burden in regard to his responsibilities toward his work, toward his family and toward his ministry, and he need to do them well. The person might be able to fulfill his own load or burden and up to 100 percent of his capacity. But there is a time that this person is needed to be helped and supported when he is overloaded and troubled with a big burden that is beyond his capacity, and here comes the responsibility of the body of Christ toward one another. Here comes the sense of being responsible toward others around you inside the church and to be ready to help them in times of their needs.

How through the church we can help one another and carry each other burdens?

1. Praying for those who have load in their lives. That is now how important to be transparent and tell to the church leadership what is passing in your life so we can pray for all these concerns and burdens.
2. Giving the needed Word of God for counseling and giving advices to solve their problems and lessen their loads. They might be having wrong thoughts and wrong plans, that is why they are having loads and trouble in their lives.
3. Rebuking them and correcting them with God's Word to escape from sins and come to repentance, in order for them to receive salvation, and to be restored back to the blessings of God.
4. After the church will be aware of the whole situation, we may need to help them in a physical way. Giving them our time and our physical efforts to carry the load and whatever helps needed to speed the process of recovery and restoration.
5. Continue to follow them up closely, till they fully recover and is able to carry on their lives in a normal way.
6. Build them up to be a blessing to others, and workers to serve God and do His will.

3 For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. 3 If anyone thinks they are something when they are not, they deceive themselves. Here is warning against pride and against self-righteousness. These are not faults but sins and the believer should repent of these sins. Such sins will hinder us from serving and will hinder us from serving and having opportunities to serve. We should not think that we are better than others. The right thought is that we need to do our part well in doing our responsibilities and to help others as much as we are assigned and have the opportunity to do that.

4 But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another. 4 Each one should test their own actions. Then they can take pride in themselves alone, without comparing themselves to someone else. Check again yourself and see if you are doing well and doing your responsibilities and assignment in a proper way. Mind your own business and don't compare yourself with others. With such measures it is clear that the person should look first to himself, finding out his fault and sins, correcting himself, and receiving correction or admonishment from the spiritual members and the leadership of the church to be restored back again to his own spiritual fruitful status. The more we are humble, then the more we are able to see our own faults and mistakes and the more we are open for corrections that will make us receive God's blessings.

6 Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things. 6 Nevertheless, the one who receives instruction in the word should share all good things with their instructor. As you receive teaching that brought blessing into your life, then in the same way you need to share the blessings that you have with those who taught you.

To communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things is to make it clear to everyone that the person who taught you His labour will not be in vain. Your good testimony being changed and transformed is the way for you to reward the person who helped you to walk in the ways of God. When you are committing your life to God, to His church and to the teaching of the Word of God that your teachers gave you then you are rewarding the person who had taught you and trained you. When you are responsible person, doing your assignments and what you had been asked well, then you will be and you are a fruitful person, being blessed yourself and you are a blessing to others. All that will communicate great rewards to those who labored in serving you and build you up in Christ. Let us therefore do our responsibilities to please God and to communicate and share good things with those who taught us.

7 Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. 8 For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. 7 Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows. 8 Whoever sows to please their flesh, from the flesh will reap destruction; whoever sows to please the Spirit, from the Spirit will reap eternal life. Here is now the way to be blessed. You need to continue to sow the seed and to be a blessing to others. The more you are sowing and being a blessing to others then the more you are receiving and enjoying the blessings of God and reaping eternal life. But if you live in sin, being lazy and living for your selfish ambition and desires then the more you are creating troubles to yourself and reaping corruption and destruction.

9 And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. 9 Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up. We should not be tired, we should not be lazy, we should not be selfish, or having lack of commitment and other factors that will prohibit us from doing the good things that God had prepared for us to do. Because we know and understood from the Scripture that one day we will reap harvest, therefore we should not give up. We should not be discouraged from the trials of life to continue to do good. We should not be discouraged when others do us harm especially those whom we serve. Let us always remember that whatever we do, we are doing it for the Lord and the Lord sure will reward us for all the good things that we had done to Him and to His people. For, "10 God is not unjust; he will not forget your work and the love you have shown him as you have helped his people and continue to help them. 11 We want each of you to show this same diligence to the very end, so that what you hope for may be fully realized. 12 We do not want you to become lazy, but to imitate those who through faith and patience inherit what has been promised." (Hebrews 6:10-12 NIV)

10 As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith. 10 Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all people, especially to those who belong to the family of believers. Now it is obvious, that we need to continue to do good to everyone, and that is why we are evangelizing to bring the good news of Jesus and the promise of God to all the people and the nations around us. They are lost without God. We need to help them, guide them, assist them, and lead them in the right way of life, then to disciple them and teach them God's ways.

Especially unto them who are of the household of faith. especially to those who belong to the family of believers As well as we need to continue to take our full part in the body of Christ, His church, doing our responsibilities and assignments well. In such a way we become a blessing to the church and that will help the church to grow and to reach others and we will be reaping further blessings.
